

ART AND THE AUTOMOBILE

OCTOBER 2 - 5, 2008, OGDEN, QUEBEC

Would you like to experience a car rally on winding country roads when the fall foliage is at its most glorious?

Would you like to photograph a wonderful array of subjects—rally cars, heritage sites, farmlands, forests, and wildlife—and talk photography with a team of professionals?

Would you like to enjoy superb cuisine and meet a fascinating mélange of automobile aficionados and artists in a relaxed atmosphere?

If the answer is yes, then mark your calendar: Thursday, October 2 to Sunday, October 5, 2008. That's when discerning car drivers and creative photographers are invited to gather for an unprecedented cultural event in the Eastern Townships of Quebec.

“Art and the Automobile” will feature a rally for classic and contemporary car drivers on the historic Chemin des Cantons (Townships Trail). It will also include a rally for photographers, who will team up with participants in the car rally or set out on their own.

Canadian engineer Paul Deutschman will be the guest of honour at “Art and the Automobile” in recognition of his outstanding contribution to automotive and industrial design internationally. An automobile show will highlight Deutschman-designed vehicles, as well as other past and present-day cars of distinctive styling.

An art show will feature images by legendary car photographer Jesse Alexander and work by other award-winning artists in different media.

Exciting new Callaway supercars will also be unveiled.

The event headquarters will be located at the idyllic Davis-Kell Farm in the municipality of Ogden, close to the Vermont border.
